

I would hate to think of a non-profit christian radio station being replaced by something else. In this world and time, it is so important for those who need uplifting to be able to find it so quickly and freely. I know it has ministered to me many times. I believe it also serves to bring christians together in fellowship by announcing gatherings or concerts, prayer lines, and businesses.